The DAYL Foundation Award of Excellence is presented to a Fellow of the DAYL Foundation who has exemplified excellence through community service. This prestigious award will be presented to J. Scott Chase at the DAYL Foundation Annual Fellows Luncheon on December 15, 2011. Mr. Chase has an extensive history of volunteering his time to groups such as Habitat for Humanity and AIDS Arms, Inc., as well as serving on various boards for the City of Dallas. Harriet Miers, a Partner at Locke Lord LLP and Former White House Counsel, will give the keynote address.

During the luncheon, the DAYL Foundation will also present a law student from SMU Dedman School of Law and a law student from Texas Wesleyan University School of Law with a scholarship for their dedication to community service and outreach.

The DAYL Foundation is a 501(c)(3) organization established for charitable and educational purposes. In 1999, the Foundation began awarding grants to non-profit organizations for legal, charitable, and educational purposes. Since then, the DAYL Foundation has given over $120,000 towards projects that better the community.

Join us at our Annual Luncheon with a reception beginning at 11:30 a.m. on December 15, 2011 at the Belo Mansion. The cost is $35 per person and includes a seated lunch. The luncheon is open to all.

Reservations and payment must be made in advance.
